DEVELOPMENT DIMENSIONS INTERNATIONAL (DDI), Bridgeville, PA

2000-2020

A $150 million global human resources consulting firm with multiple Fortune 500 clients and offices in 26 countries.

Marketing Content Manager (2017-2020)

Strategized, formulated, and published content on multiple platforms to advance DDI's strategic priorities, marketing objectives, client relationships, and lead generation and sales goals. This content supported sales enablement, demand generation, user experience, mobile strategy, and social media engagement.

- Formulated a comprehensive content strategy for DDI marketing, encompassing goals, key messages, personas, buying journeys, demand generation, SEO and SEM, and social media.
- Partnered with senior leadership, key stakeholders, and teams across the organization to craft the right messages, ensure high quality, optimize distribution and delivery through owned, paid, and earned platforms, and ensure the best possible audience/user experience.
- Served as publisher, managing editor, and project manager for DDI's magazine, blog, podcast, monthly email newsletter, and client case histories.
- Established a content scorecard to track impact of tactics and support data-driven decisions.
- Created and executed marketing, communication, and amplification plans for individual platforms and tactics, and for the optimization of major pieces of DDI thought leadership, research, and other content.
- Leveraged relationships with internal partners to establish a global pipeline of thought leadership on business-relevant topics.

Managing Editor (2013-2017)

Shaped strategy, created content, and provided project management for a full range of marketing assets, online and electronic marketing content, research studies, event invitations, sales collateral, and publications.

- Managed editorial, design, production, and distribution of DDI's GO magazine and newsletter, the company's flagship publications, read by more than 50,000 HR executives, leaders, and professionals worldwide.
- Partnered with salespeople, marketing leaders, and clients around the world to write and publish client case histories.
- Matched staff and freelance writers with assigned projects.
- Worked directly with senior executives and thought leaders to produce bylined articles for trade media, research reports, major event invitations, demand generation e-marketing campaigns, blogs, and social media content.
- Led content distribution team in optimizing, amplifying, and coordinating content marketing efforts.

Senior Writer (2000-2013)

Led a team of staff and freelance writers to create high-impact marketing communications pieces, collateral material, publications, podcasts, videos, research studies, and thought leadership in support of DDI's global marketing strategy and objectives. Supported internal communications, branding, and media relations efforts.

- Consulted with senior managers, marketing consultants, international marketing managers, and product line leaders on internal and external communication strategy and tactics.
- Wrote and edited copy for a full range of B2B marketing and internal communication materials/publications.
- Managed creative projects, coordinating with project leaders, designers, printers, external agencies, and vendors.
- Worked with senior management to shape the editorial vision and co-managed the launch of a highly successful print and electronic magazine that advanced the DDI brand and generated more than $500,000 in sales opportunities.
- Served as lead copywriter on a team that designed four "Best in Show" booths at a leading industry trade show.
